Referral Partner Bundle Deal

Articles, bylaws and five more governance documents, a red-flag review and one IRS-letter response, included with every 501(c)(3) filing.

Lurex Consulting prepares a founder's federal 501(c)(3) application and its supporting documents from the information the founder gives us. The founder reviews everything, signs it, pays the IRS and files in their own name. We work remotely with founders across the U.S.

SHORT FORM (FORM 1023-EZ)

EZ, PDF-Prepared Filing Package	$550
EZ, Guided Filing & Support	$795

LONG FORM (FULL FORM 1023)

Long Form, PDF-Prepared Filing Package	$1,395
Long Form, Guided Filing & Support	$1,995

The IRS filing fee is separate and paid by the founder to the IRS: $275 for the 1023-EZ and $600 for the full Form 1023. An EIN is needed before we begin. It is free directly from the IRS.

We deliver the initial draft package within five business days after we receive the completed intake. Delays caused by incomplete or inaccurate information, other client delays, a change in scope or events beyond our control extend that window.

Referral partners may receive a thank-you reward from Lurex. It is never added to the founder's price. How it works: lurexconsulting.com/referral-partners/

For partners: how to pass this on

Know a founder ready to file their own 501(c)(3)? Forward this PDF, or send them to lurexconsulting.com/501c3-services-page/. There is no cost to you, no contract and nothing to manage.

What the founder gets

- The federal application, bylaws and five other governance documents, Articles of Incorporation (in California, Nevada and Arizona, the founder's attorney prepares the state Articles), a review for common problems before filing and one response draft if the IRS writes back with questions.
- For the full Form 1023, we also write the activities description and a 3-year financial projection.

Questions, or ready to start?

ops@lurexconsulting.com

Who prepares it

Corey, founder of Lurex Consulting, spent 12 years running his own consulting business and 12 years in law enforcement. He also founded and runs an IRS-approved 501(c)(3).

About us

We are a document-preparation service, not a law or CPA firm. Legal and tax questions stay with the founder's attorney or CPA. The IRS makes the decision, and we do not guarantee any outcome.